

Satellite radio offers unique content and quality broadcasting that isn't available anywhere else. I think it is shameful that the NAB prefers litigation instead of innovation. If local radio is really worried about satellite radio then they need to compete with content, not with lawsuits. I urge you to not to stifle innovation and competition. Please dismiss the NAB's claims and allow satellite radio to continue offering its excellent service, including local weather and traffic.

Thank you,

Nathaniel Sykes